Starting your own business is a great option for everyone, not just those born in privilege. Entrepreneurship unlocks the door to economic opportunity. Brian Hamilton co-founded Sageworks, the first financial technology company in the nation and the largest provider of software to U.S. banks. He sold the company to a leading private equity firm in 2018 and has turned his attention to growing the Brian Hamilton Foundation, which helps bring entrepreneurship to people who would not otherwise have it; to include veterans, students, and inmates. In this talk, he will outline why entrepreneurship is one of the best alternatives for building wealth and how you can do it with limited resources.

Brian Hamilton is a regular guest on CNBC and Fox Business and is regularly quoted in and writes for all major national media publications. He is also a contributor to Inc. and Entrepreneur magazines.
